Quince, Tyree named 2024 Medal of Honor recipients

Left: Ret. Justice Peggy A. Quince is presented the 2024 Medal of Honor for a Lawyer by Craig Gibbs. Right: Dr. Lawrence W. "Larry" Tyree is presented the Medal of Honor for a Non-Lawyer by Judge Edwin A. Scales III. The Medal of Honor Award is sponsored by Florida Lawyers Mutual Insurance Company.

Former Florida Supreme Court Justice Peggy A. Quince was awarded FFLA's Medal of Honor Award for a Lawyer, and retired college president Dr. Lawrence W. Tyree was awarded the Medal of Honor Award for a Non-Lawyer at FFLA's 2024 Award Ceremony and Breakfast in June.

The Medal of Honor is FFLA's highest honor. Sponsored by Florida Lawyers Mutual Insurance Company, it is presented each year to a member of The Florida Bar who has demonstrated his or her dedication to the objectives of The Florida Bar. The Medal of Honor may also be awarded to a member of the public or a lawyer not actively engaged in the practice of law who has made outstanding achievements in improving the administration of justice in Florida.

Quince, who served as Chief Justice of the Florida Supreme Court from 2008 to 2010, was honored for her decades-long legal and judicial career spent in service to the public, her extensive volunteer work on behalf of those less fortunate and her dedication to ensuring the halls of justice are open to all.

"Justice Quince never yielded to the public pressure and tension to win at the expense of professionalism," said Judge Chris Altenbernd in a letter of support for Quince's nomination. "Her arguments before the Second District and the Supreme Court were models of professionalism. Virtually her entire career was spent in service of the public. Peggy Quince was obedient to the rule of law. But equally, she was an ordinary, real person who chose to appear at countless public meetings to give people the assurance that the judiciary was FFLA President Roberto R. Pardo's term began July 1, 2024. He practices in the areas of criminal defense and personal injury in Miami. Pardo earned his law degree from the University of Miami School of Law. Pardo served on the board of directors of The Florida Bar Foundation, now FFLA, from 2007-2013. He rejoined the board in 2016 and has served on more than a dozen committees. He served eight years on the Eleventh Circuit Judicial Nomination Commission. He has also served on the boards of the Cuban American Bar Association, earning its Presidential Award in 2021, the Miami chapter of the Florida Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers and the League of Prosecutors. Pardo also served on the Eleventh Circuit Unlicensed Practice of Law Committee "D" and the Grievance Committee "B," for which he twice received a Meritorious Public Service Award.

FFLA stands at the threshold of achieving something many times greater than we could have imagined a decade ago. A little over a year after an amendment to the IOTA rule, we now have the resources to fund legal aid in a way that is pivotal - a generational opportunity to expand access to thousands more Floridians.

We have already seen that our grantees have been able to hire more lawyers and serve more clients. As they grow their programs, they can rest assured that IOTA funding will be consistent, allowing them to transform and reimagine the impact of broader legal options for the communities they serve.

Our board of directors and staff have been working diligently to implement new policies and procedures that ensure this increased funding is used efficiently and effectively. We review and analyze many data points reported by grantees to verify that IOTA funds are being used in accordance with the rule. With more responsibility comes more work, so FFLA has hired a grants assistant and a communications and development assistant to support our small staff.

We are excited and look forward to watching our state's civil legal aid system grow and help more people in need. We want to bring along all of the supporters and advocates of legal aid who have worked so long to see a bigger impact. It is a great time to get energized about the tremendous work our grantees do. I encourage you to learn about your local legal aid program and spread the word about the services they offer and the significance of their work.

their judiciary, and not a court controlled by the elite. Both in her personal and professional life, she has had that rare ability to be a kind and gentle person, who still has the courage and strength to stand up for what she believes is right."

June Board of Directors report

The FFLA Board of Directors met in person in Orlando on June 20, 2024. The major actions of the board and reports received included:

Adoption of FY 24-25 Operating Budget

The Budget and Finance Committee recommended, and the board approved, a FY 24-25 operating budget of $2,710,819, which represents a 10% increase from the previous year's budget. The majority of the increase is a result of plans to add three new staff positions. The board adopted a proposed capital budget in the amount of $73,529 for expenses associated with FFLA's building, including replacing air conditioning units and required parking lot resurfacing.

It was also reported that projected actual expenses for FY 23-24 were expected to come in under budget by about $402,000. This is the sixth year in a row in which FFLA has come in under budget.

Children's Legal Services grants approved

The Children's Legal Services program provides funding for legal assistance to needy children in critical areas that affect their safety, well-being and future development. The board previously allocated $1,600,000 to fund Children's Legal Services this fiscal year. FFLA received 17 applications requesting a total of $2,315,158 (145% of available funding).

The board reviewed the recommendation of the grants committee and approved funding 11 projects (see pg. 5). FFLA is appreciative of the efforts of Retired Judge Hugh Carithers, Judge Stefanie Moon, Ayana Barrow, Bob Pardo and Brian Currie for reviewing applications and assisting staff

Law School Civil Legal Clinic grant awarded

The board previously approved an allocation of $1,000,000 from IOTA collections to fund Law School Civil Legal Clinics (LSCLC). LSCLC grants are typically awarded in June for clinics beginning the following fall and spring semesters. FFLA received five applications requesting a total of $551,750.

The Grants Committee recommended and the board approved funding one project, Florida State University College of Law's Eliminating Economic Barriers Immigrant and Farmworker Clinic, for $125,000, using other collections (not IOTA collections).

It also recommended suspending the program and reviewing it in light of the changed circumstances related to law school clinics since the program's inception. The board created a work group to review the program and have discussions with law schools, and present its final report in December. Laura Boeckman, Dax Bello, Robert Murphy, Douglas Reynolds and Patrick Montoya were appointed to the work group.

Improvements in the Administration of Justice grants

In March, the board approved Florida's Children First and the Innocence Project of Florida for AOJ funding, and authorized the Grants Committee review team to ask CABA Pro Bono Legal Services and Coast to Coast Legal Aid of South Florida for further information about the AOJ projects for which they had applied for funding.

The review team evaluated timelines, specific performance metrics, budget worksheets, and minimum viable grant amounts for the projects and reported back to the Grants Committee. The committee recommended, and the board approved, funding CABA's project in the amount of $125,000 and respectfully declining Coast to Coast's project.

Investment Committee Report

The Investment Committee brought forth a recommendation to the board to engage in an RFP process for an investment manager. The board approved the recommendation. A work group will be appointed to proceed and report back in time for the board's December meeting.

IOTA Work Group Report

Judge Suzanne Van Wyk, chair of the IOTA Work Group, reported on an informational meeting with the Florida Supreme Court. The Work Group will meet to review the IOTA Implementation Work Plan's objective standards in light of feedback from the Court and will endeavor to make any changes deemed necessary. The Work Group will also take up its annual review of the IOTA Work Plan, review assignments related to grantees, and begin work on an application process for potential new qualified grantee organizations.

Passing of the Gavel and Thanksgiving for Service

In President Murray Silverstein's absence, Immediate Past President Suzanne Van Wyk passed the president's gavel to President-elect Roberto R. Pardo. Mr. Pardo announced his committee assignments and dates for board meetings for FY 24-25, which were ratified by the board.

Immediate Past President Van Wyk also recognized those members of the board and the Foundation Endowment Trust who were terming off and thanked them for their service and commitment. Those members are: Jack Harkness, Esq., Ret. Justice James E.C. Perry, Raymond Reid, Esq., Hon. Jeffrey T. Kuntz, George W. Tinsley Sr., and Juliette E. Lippman, Esq. President-elect Pardo also welcomed and introduced new directors (see pg. 3).

Next Meeting

The board's next scheduled meetings will be on September 19 – 20, 2024, in Miami, Fla., hosted by the University of Miami School of Law.
